Pages 59/64: Denied. The objective of the transaction was achieved. This is a perfect and completed legal transaction, and no claim is made for a one-day delay in the deadline for filing a power of attorney. Unlike the allegation...

As requested by the defendant, the power of attorney on page 58 grants specific powers to "sign agreements or commitments, receive amounts arising from agreements, (...) compromise, (...) give receipts and releases." (...)". Regarding the need for notarization, it is clear that such a measure is not foreseen in any legal norm. Corroborating this thesis, it is important to emphasize that the power of attorney
The document granted by the defendant, attached to page 31 of the case file, also lacks a notarized signature.
